Community based COVID-19 testing dates, sites announced in Okanogan County

OKANOGAN – To help slow the spread of COVID-19 in Okanogan County, Okanogan County Public Health is offering FREE community-based COVID-19 testing in August.

“In order to get our economy, schools, and health back on track, and to control the spread of the disease, it would be helpful for all county residents who are interacting with others to get tested for COVID-19” said Dr. John McCarthy, Okanogan County Health Officer. “A large proportion of the transmission of this virus is thought to be due to people without any symptoms who have no idea they have the disease. Please consider testing and engaging in mask wearing/physical distancing and minimizing group gatherings until we have this back under control.”

To help stop the spread of COVID-19, we are encouraging everyone in our county to get tested this month. Together, we can slow the spread of COVID-19 and help our community, and our economy, recover safely.

Testing will be easy and pain free. You will not be asked to quarantine while you wait for the test results, unless you have symptoms.
